

Stabilization and Characterization of Ultra-Low Noise Lasers for Gravitational Wave Detectors

Benno Willke, Institute for Gravitational Physics, Leibniz University Hannover

High-power laser sources of laser interferometric gravitational wave detectors have to fulfil extreme stability requirements. This contribution describes stabilization concepts used in current gravitational wave detectors and possible schemes for future detectors.